

Stay Thirsty My Friends

- Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness.
- We want Christianity to fix our problems and make people like us more.
- It is a waste of energy to protect yourself from being hurt.
- The only way to get rid of the fear of hurt is to get rid of fear.
- Reliving hurt and pain is a form of self-worship.
- You're blessed when you're ridiculed.
- When the man spirit feels threatened, it attacks and defends itself.
- Why are you wasting time on something that's already happened?
- Do you seek to live a life that brings you closer to God?
- God never designed us to back away from each other.
- No weapon formed against me can prosper.
- How can a Christian be hopeless?
- To replay offense is to harden the heart.
- Put away the defense mechanisms.

- The comfort you are looking for isn't going to come from aggression and anger.
- To be poor in spirit is to be honest with self and with God.
- God loves a broken heart.
- You'll be comforted once you're willing to mourn.
- I can only fix one persona and that's me.
- A heart that's dishonest is blind.
- Some people fake purity.
- Nobody has power of you.
- Mercy is love set in motion.
- Tell one another what your weaknesses are, so you can become a whole person.
- Delays aren't denial.
- It's hard to be thankful when you're heart is compromised.
- What is your hope in?
- What do you want to happen?
- What is true about Jesus is also true of his community.
